

Growing a Media Center: Training and Connecting a Community 2014 - 2015 ANNUAL REPORT

A Message

from the Board Chair, David Murdo

As we look around, I think we all will agree that the world is moving at a fast pace. And for some, it's a good change and not so for many. But the reality is we need to keep up with the changes.

When I look back to what ConcordTV was when I became involved some 16 years ago, ConcordTV was about producing content for its three cable channels: Education channel 6, Government channel 17, Public Access channel 22. ConcordTV was located at Concord High School.

As for training, it was geared toward learning to produce shows, many to include: running a camera, directing, editing, lighting etc. As we look at ConcordTV today and its values, what was the focus back 16 years ago cannot be the focus today.

With social media and cell phones, the average citizen no longer needs to use a camera to capture content. So, ConcordTV saw the value to changing to a full Media Center, which not only promotes the values of 16 years ago, but also introduces other types of training such as: making movies with an Iphone or Ipad, creating a Public Service Announcement, Google drive basics, gaining media attention, etc. As we made changes to becoming a Media Center, it has brought new opportunities to involve the community, with most classes and workshops being taught at its 2nd location in the city's Community Center on the Heights.

I think we all agree that change is not always easy. However, the board and staff at ConcordTV are dedicated and open to new changes. Thank you ConcordTV Board of Directors and Staff!

A Message

from the Executive Director, Doris Ballard

When deciding on the theme for the 2014-2015 Fiscal Year annual report, two things came to mind. One was the expansion of the classes and workshops that continue to grow the station's Media Center on the Heights. And the second was how all the year's activities connected our community in one way or another. So, with that in mind, came the idea for a title that tells the story of a busy and productive year at ConcordTV . . . "Growing a Media Center: Training and Connecting a Community."

As you peruse the content of the report, you will see that the training that is offered at ConcordTV comes in many forms. From teaching a class of seniors on how to create a Public Service Announcement for OLLI (Osher for Lifelong Learning), to training youth on the art of filmmaking, we continue to see that all generations benefit from ConcordTV resources and its Media Center.

And the training comes in all forms. Whether signing up to help with the technical needs of producing our annual televised event, Concord On Air, or training a group of Concord High students to produce the daily morning announcements show CHS Live, there are many opportunities for the public to learn valuable skills that are relevant in today's world of new media.

So, how is training a community vital to connecting a community? The answer is "content." Regardless of who is being trained for what, there is always some type of content created that is shared with the public on our Public, Education and Government channels, on our website, and YouTube, Facebook, Instagram, Vimeo or Twitter accounts.

So, we invite you to carve out some time out of your busy schedule to look at this report. Then we hope the many activities and stories you read about motivate you to "connect" with ConcordTV: Your Community Channels and Media Center. Our talented staff and many resources are but a phone call or email away.

A generous gift . . . A new look for the ConcordTV Van

When Russ Aubertin, owner of Advantage Signs and NH Wraps, offered in June 2015 to create a new look for the ConcordTV van with a brand new wrap, we knew this gift would be one that would promote what we offer to the public in an exciting and extremely visible way for many years. So with the help of their graphic designer, Abbey Dow, we went to work in brainstorming what that new look might be. The new look of our van can now be seen by thousands as it moves throughout the streets of Concord.

Thank you Advantage Signs and NHWraps.com!

Value of Van wrap and logo creation: $4,331.72

(Note: Although the donation announcement was made in the report's Fiscal Year, this in-kind donation will be reflected in the 15-16 FY financial report since it was completed in FY 2015-2016.)

A Community Discovers the Creativity and Talent of our Youth

Youth Video Camps

Each year we host youth video camps that provide the equipment and training for kids to create their own videos. For most of these Concord-area kids it's the first opportunity they've had to use professional video cameras. Our new February and April camps were a huge success too, adding to our summer camp offerings.

6 camps:

- Beginner Video Camp x 2
- Advanced Video Camp
- Super Advanced Video Camp
- Filmmaking Camp
- Action and Adventure Video Camp

Camp attendees: 43

Concord schools represented: Beaver Meadow, Christa McAuliffe, Abbot Downing, Rundlett, Concord High

Film Society

Film Society, Concord High's student-run film club meets every Wednesday afternoon in our studio. Last year the group grew from just a handful of students to 20+ members. Throughout the school year there were workshops on scriptwriting, lighting, and audio and those skills were applied to their own original films. They hosted the 2015 Concord High Film Festival which was valuable event management experience for all students involved.

of students in the club: 21 (by spring 2015)

of films created by students: 4

of festival attendees: 80 in-person, 20 viewers on live stream

ACM-NE Video Festival

ConcordTV was well-represented at the 2014 Alliance for Community Media - Northeast Region (ACM-NE) Video Festival, receiving several awards in recognition for proficient community media content.

Congratulations to our Video Festival Winners

CHS Live

CHS Live is a student-run morning announcement program produced by Principal Connolly and taped Tuesdays through Fridays during the school year at Concord High School. ConcordTV provides studio space and technical support to this innovative program which has provided valuable production experience to students. Previous directors of CHS Live have gone on to communications programs at Syracuse University and Lyndon State College..

Youth Sports

Concord youth sports are very popular videos that are made possible by our terrific station volunteers. We covered primarily football, hockey, baseball, softball, volleyball, and lacrosse throughout the school year, all of which aired on Education Channel 6 as well as on Channel 22. All Concord School District games we tape are entered into our archival system.

Training Adults: Connecting the Public to the Community

Adult Classes and Workshops

97 adults attended classes and workshops at ConcordTV's Media Center which is located in the City's Community Center on the Heights. and netted revenue of $2,935. They are:

Basic classes:

Digital Filmmaking
Introduction to Editing
Advanced Editing

Special classes and workshops

Added to the basic classes were several specialized offerings that meet the needs of individuals, entrepreneurs and nonprofit staff and volunteers who are looking to learn new technologies in marketing, video, and social media. They are:

The Power of Video in Marketing Your Organization on Social Media and Beyond (September 24, 2014),
Website Creation with Wordpress (October 16, 2014),

Production Workshop: AUDIO (December 9, 2014),

How to Create a PSA for your Organization (January 23, 2015),
Production Workshop: LIGHTING (May 12, 2015)

Opportunities to Connect with the Community: Learning as they Create Content

Creating shows for the public to view:

On the first and third Wednesday's of each month, the public is able to reserve a time to come into the Heights studio and create a TV show by using the station's Producer Support Program. It all begins with an orientation and Planning Your Program class. Their programs are taped in the studio on a first-come-first-served basis, and then scheduled on the Public Access channel 22, and can also be seen "on demand" on the station's website (www.yourconcordtv.org), and shared on our social media platforms.

Leadership Greater Concord Media Day

On January 14, 2015, ConcordTV hosted the 2014-2015 class of Leadership Greater Concord for the morning's session of "Media Day." Participants learned all about our organization and got some hands-on experience in the studio. Students also had the opportunity to be involved in the creation of a Public Service Announcement for the Leadership program, which was edited by our staff and shared on our public channel and social media platforms. The PSA was made available to the Chamber to use in their marketing efforts.

Connecting Community to What's Trending Today

ConcordTV is always looking for ways to capture content that connects community with what's trending locally and nationally. Here are projects that were deemed important and interesting enough to capture and share with the public. All of these projects can be watched "on demand" on www.yourconcordtv.org.

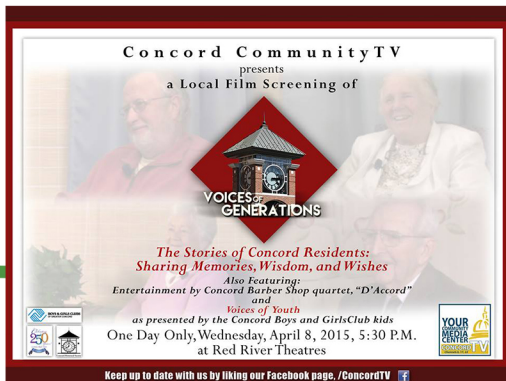

Concord 250 Celebration

This year-long celebration of the City's 250th Anniversary has been, and will continue to be throughout 2015, a prominent feature on ConcordTV. During this Fiscal Year period, the following events were taped, edited and aired for the public to enjoy on our channels and on social media.

Time Capsule Unearthing, the public participation in creating a 250 Mosaic at Market Days; Concord 250 public meetings; and the 1890 Bicycle Recreation which was produced by Penacock Films.

Main Street Minute

To keep Concord residents informed as to what's happening with the Main Street redevelopment project, ConcordTV collaborated with the public relations team from Louis Karno Communications in producing a program called Main Street Minute. Alex McIntire of Louis Karno hosted the program which features actual footage of the project's progress with updates from Concord City Engineer Ed Roberge.

Voices of Generations

As part of ConcordTV's contribution to the City's 250th Anniversary celebration, 25 senior citizens from Concord were interviewed to be part of a short documentary called, Voices of Generations. The film was featured at Red River Theatres on April 8, 2015, with live participation by students from the Concord Boys and Girls Club who represented the voices of the younger generation.

Thank you to the following seniors participants who stepped up to be a part of this film that, in their own words, documents our City's past, present and future:

2016 People's Presidential Project

New Hampshire's first in the nation Presidential Primary status presents ConcordTV with a unique opportunity to connect the people of Concord (and beyond) with the many candidate hopefuls that visit our State. The result is the ConcordTV "Non-Partisan Voter Education Project" entitled, 2016 People's Presidential Project.

The project works like this:

Each candidate who accepts the 2016 People's Presidential Project's invitation to communicate directly with the people is videotaped answering one question only in a setting of the candidate's choice. Every candidate is asked the same question and is allowed to respond uninterrupted for up to 5 minutes. There are no follow up questions. Following the taped session, the candidate is provided with an unedited video copy to be used by the candidate at their discretion. Nine candidates accepted our invitation this Fiscal year, with a total of 16 as of the date of this publication. The project will continue leading up to the elections in November 2016.

The question: "Please look directly into the camera and tell the people of New Hampshire, the Nation and the World, why, as a possible future President of the United States, YOU will be the People's President."

Watch all of their responses, in order of tapings, on ConcordTV website, www.yourconcordtv.org.

Thank you to our Sponsor of the 2016 People's Presidential Project,

The H.L. Turner Group Inc.

ARCHITECTS • ENGINEERS • BUILDING SCIENTISTS

Governor Winant Project

ConcordTV was asked to tape the Governor John G. Winant Lecture series at the State Historical Society as part of the initiative to memorialize the former governor of New Hampshire, who was also an ambassador to England during World War II and the first head of the Social Security Administration. The lecture series will eventually be part of a documentary that is being planned in conjunction with the Governor Winant Memorial Committee.

Capturing and Sharing the Best of our Community

On Sunday, March 29, 2015, ConcordTV aired its annual “live,” eight-hour telecast and fundraiser, Concord On Air.
